SHVETSOV FINDS THE WAY TO VICTORY

Both fast and consistent, the Russian Ivan Shvetsov (Tony Kart / Vortex) from Ward Racing richly deserved to include his name in the history of the trophy, ahead of compatriot and team-mate Pavl Bulantsev (Tony Kart / Vortex), while a third Russian, Bogdan Fetisov (Tony Kart / TM) from Team Komarov climbed on to the third step of the podium. A faster driver on the track, Noah Watt (Tony Kart / Vortex) from Team Baby Race often lost some time during the start phases, which explains his 4th position. The Frenchman Adam Eteki (Tony Kart / Vortex) from the SG Drivers team long drove in 10th before finishing in 7th position. Pierre-Louis Chovet (CRG / Parilla) learned the category with the CRG team.

SMOLYAR WINS WITHOUT SUSPENSE

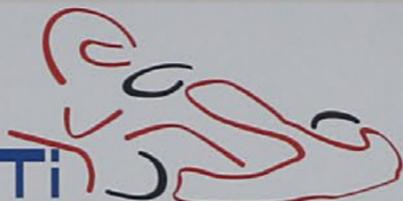

OK

Six pilotes seulement ont participé à la compétition jusqu'au bout. La hiérarchie des 3 premiers était révélée dès les chronos avec le Russe Alexander Smolyar (Tony Kart/Vortex), Ward Racing, leader de bout en bout face au Danois Emil Dose (Kosmic/Vortex) de KSB Racing Team et au Suédois Simon Ohlin (Tony Kart/Vortex), lui aussi chez Ward Racing.

POLLINI WINS HIS DUEL WITH SCHMITZ

Two drivers flew ahead of the busy category of 125cc gearbox. The German Alexander Schmitz (Tony Kart / Vortex) from KSM Schumacher Racing Team lost his advantage on the last lap of the Final when his Italian rival Giacomo Pollini (CRG / TM) of Renda Motorsport blew his victory. At the wheel of his Maranello / Modena, Alberto Cavalieri took 3rd place against Douglas Lundberg (Mach 1 / TM) and Gary Carlton (Formula K / Parilla) who rebounded well in 5th position after contact with Leonardo Lorandi (Tony Kart / Vortex) and Tommaso Mosca (Maranello / TM).

FOMIN DOMINATES

60 MINI

After not qualifying for his first international appearance at the Winter Cup, the young Russian Ruslan Fomin (Tony Kart / TM) at Baby Race made spectacular progress by dominating the Margutti Trophy. His team-mate Alessandro Cenedese (Tony Kart / TM), who took pole position, was sinking in the Finals, while the Frenchman Evann Mallet (CRG / TM) moved back to 2nd position ahead of another Russian, Kirill Smal (Energy / IAME).
